Project 1

My design plan is to utilize my previously created brewery inventory site and convert it for mobile access. The only changes I may make will be to the user interface potentially updating the look for more style, but I want the inventory site to function as it would on a website but in mobile form.

To accomplish this, I use the previously created code and work through the pwabuilder site to configure my code for mobile use. I will also use CSS styling to create a better design.
